ARTIUM is Latin for "belonging to the arts".

Our April meeting was a Plein Air outing to Morning Glory Farm in Mansfield.

Thank you to all who joined the outing SATURDAY April 24th. Our gracious hostess sent everyone home with a dozen multicolored eggs and Goats Milk Soaps!! What a beautiful day it was. And the paintings were simply amazing. We had 13 people at the farm snapping photos and painting. The Goats were very happy to perform for us. The Alpacas were freshly shorn, and the chickens were preening. The verdant scene was like something out of a child's picture book. We had fresh donuts and steaming hot coffee for everyone. It was perfect. I sincerely hope that more of you are able to participate at our next plein air event. In the future our outing won't interfere with our monthly meeting. I'm working on some ideas...

We will strive to have meetings on the third Monday of every month at the Chris Burkett Service Center, 620 South Wisteria Street, Mansfield at 6:30p.m.

Art Term Corner

CHIAROSCURO is an Italian term which translates as light-dark, and refers to the balance and pattern of light and shade in a painting or drawing Jean Arp (Hans Arp) Sculpture to be Lost in the Forest 1932, cast c.1953-8 Tate

Chiaroscuro is generally only remarked upon when it is a particularly prominent feature of the work, usually when the artist is using extreme contrasts of light and shade.

Fear of Failure

by Dan Scott
drawpaintacademy.com

"You forgot "fear of failure" as a roadblock".

How could I forget! It is such a chronic problem for so many artists. I will start with a quote by Impressionist master, Camille Pissarro

*"I have just concluded my series of paintings, I look at them constantly. I who made them often find them horrible. I understand them only at rare moments, when I have forgotten all about them, on days when I feel kindly disposed and indulgent to their poor maker.
Sometimes I am horribly afraid to turn round canvases which I have piled against the wall; I am constantly afraid of finding monsters where I believed there were precious gems! Thus it does not astonish me that the critics in London relegate me to the lowest rank. Alas! I fear that they are only too justified! - However, at times I come across works of mine which are soundly done and really in my style, and at such moments I find great solace. But no more of that. Painting, art in general, enchants me. It is my life. What else matters?" Letter from Pissarro dated 20 November 1883 (recipient unknown)*

If you are not familiar with Pissarro, you should check out my spotlight on him here. In short, he was a figurehead of Impressionism, brushed shoulders with other masters like Monet and Cézanne, and today his paintings are held in our most prestigious museums.
Many would consider this to be the principle of artistic success.

But, even HE had a chronic fear of failure.

There are two ways you could look at this. One way—that you may never escape the fear of failure, no matter how great you become. That sounds a bit depressing though doesn't it?

The other way is to seek comfort in the idea that you are not alone. Even the great masters like Pissarro experience times of doubt. It is just part of the journey which we all share.

THINGS I WISH SOMEONE HAD TOLD ME ABOUT BEING AN ARTIST

1. DON'T COMPARE YOUR WORK TO OTHER'S. COMPARE YOUR NEW WORK TO THE OLD.
2. YOU DON'T HAVE TO GO TO ART SCHOOL, BUT DOING SO CAN GET YOU FURTHER, FASTER.
3. SOMEONE, SOMEWHERE, WILL LOVE WHAT YOU DO (AND PAY FOR IT). FIND THEM.
4. REALLY GOOD WORK TAKES A REALLY LONG TIME TO MAKE. BE PATIENT WITH YOURSELF.
5. CREATE EVERY SINGLE DAY. EVEN IF IT'S ALL GARBAGE, YOU CAN'T IMPROVE ON A BLANK CANVAS.
